Band 6 Senior Staff Nurse Acute Cardiac Care Unit (ACCU) Middlesex - Harefield Hospital

Salary: £32,257 to £41,308 per annum inclusive

Hours Per Week: 37.5 hours per week

Job Type: Permanent

Reference: 312-HH-CA-4017

Closing Date: 13 Jan 2019

This is a great opportunity to develop your clinical/leadership experience and skills in a diverse and fast-paced environment. As a Senior Staff Nurse you will have the opportunity to coordinate the flow of patients through the ward, lead and support other members of the team and be a positive role model for your colleagues.

About us

Harefield Hospital's Acute Cardiac Care Unit is a 50 bedded specialist cardiac centre caring for people who require cardiac investigations and interventions such as Angioplasty (Primary and Elective), Electrophysiology studies, TAVI, Ablations and Pacemakers/Devices. We also care for patients who have heart failure and those requiring end of life care. Our primary angioplasty service is one of the busiest in the country and we pride ourselves on the aftercare provided to patients following their MI.

The ward has two Practice Educators who provide excellent support and training. Each member of staff benefits from in-house training days and has the opportunity to apply for post graduate courses.

ACCU has been shortlisted for the Nursing Times Student Nurse Placement of the Year (2018), further confirmation of the supportive environment and vast number of learning opportunities available on the ward.

About you

We need enthusiastic, open minded nurses who are keen to work at the leading edge of cardiothoracic practice in a lively, fast-paced ward setting. If you want to be a part of an exceptional team, share your experience with a supportive team and grow in the role, we would love to hear from you.

For an informal chat or to arrange a visit contact Sister Emma Fleming on extension 85302 or e-mail e.fleming@rbht.nhs.uk , or Sister Jo Goodyer on extension 85644 or e-mail j.goodyer@rbht.nhs.uk

Looking for a new challenge? Then join our team!

This is a great chance for a highly motivated Registered Anaesthetic Nurse/O.D.P. to develop their career with one of Europe's largest heart and lung centers. Although we work primarily on adult and paediatric cardiothoracic patients we also cover all specialties with underlying cardiothoracic conditions.

You will be broadening and deepening your anaesthetic experience in a partnership of two specialist hospitals which are known throughout the world for their expertise, standard of care and research success, using the latest technology and pioneering new techniques, working in our department of 6 operating theatres including a new £7,000,000 state of the art hybrid theatre, 4 catheter laboratories and in ancillary areas covering MRI and CT imaging work. You will also benefit from superb training and development opportunities and in a fabulous location within the heart of Chelsea.

We need an enthusiastic practitioner to join our Anaesthetic Team at the Royal Brompton Hospital.

Cardiothoracic experience would be beneficial but is not essential as training will be given on commencement of the post.

You will be expected to complete our competencies within an agreed period of time, dependent on your experience, before commencing on-call duties.

In return you can expect a departmental orientation program, along with support to undertake Theatre Courses and opportunities to participate in our monthly Academic program.

We encourage all our staff to achieve a healthy work/life balance in a friendly, supportive environment where people are keen to share their skills.

About Us

Victoria ward is all about Respiratory care. We nurse people who have a variety of respiratory conditions, asthma, COPD, neuromuscular lung disorders, infection and Interstitial lung disease. We are one of the largest centres using non-invasive ventilation, and have designated sleep laboratories for sleep disordered breathing. Patient centred care underpins all we work towards.

We currently have 5 High dependent respiratory beds. These beds are used for those with greater need for respiratory support and care. High flow CPAP, high flow nasal oxygen, NIV support, CVP and ABG monitoring and Tracheostomy management and cardiac monitoring.

There are plenty opportunities to develop; advanced nursing skills in tracheostomy care, high dependency respiratory nursing care skills and care of patients on non-invasive ventilation. There is a Practice facilitator and Practice educator to help with professional clinical skill development. The ward works around effective team work and works together with the wide multidisciplinary team. The nursing teams are well led and supported by the deputy sisters and the charge nurse.

Singing for breathing group, reflexology and relaxation classes are some of the activities that support the nursing care and medical treatment.

About you

The ward is looking for a senior staff nurse who can contribute in developing the clinical care and demonstrate good team leadership in a supportive environment. A mentorship qualification is essential for this post. We are looking for nurses who have excellent care values, a strong sense of team spirit and relevant experience in respiratory care. The focus is on delivering high quality patient-centred care. Following orientation and completion of relevant competencies, staff will have the opportunity to access university based post-graduate courses. The post is for a registered nurse with good IT, and interpersonal skills and the ability to manage group of patients who may have complex needs.

We are looking for highly motivated staff nurses to join our team on the 26-bedded cardiothoracic Elizabeth High Dependency Unit (EHDU). Our unit caters for mixed speciality adult patients including cardiac and thoracic surgery, congenital heart disease, and cardiology patients requiring specialist high dependency care. We also deliver care to patients requiring Haemofiltration, Ultrafiltration, Non- Invasive Ventilation, Intra-Aortic Balloon Pumps and those requiring high levels of inotropic support.

This is an excellent opportunity to develop and consolidate your critical care skills with the support of an experienced senior team. The EHDU has designated practice educators whose role is to support the learning and development of the nursing team and to provide staff of all grades with the essential knowledge and skills required for this department. You will be provided with a supernumerary period, EHDU induction sessions, bedside coaching and a competency-based programme to support you through your career progression.

Our band 5 education program sets out clear developmental pathways leading to career opportunities within critical care. We provide staff with basic and advanced training for maintaining professional growth and ongoing development.

We are interested in nurses who are committed to delivering a high standard of patient care and have a genuine interest in critical care. Candidates will have excellent communication skills and be able to work effectively as part of a multidisciplinary team. A flexible approach and the ability to respond appropriately to the demands of a rapidly changing environment are also essential.

You will join our friendly and dedicated EHDU team, within a care group which has a local, national and international reputation for delivering expert cardiothoracic care to our patients. Clinical expertise is at the forefront of making sure that patients have the best clinical outcome and receive care that is current, and evidence-based.

Site Practitioner (Night and Weekend Day Cover)

An exciting opportunity has become available to expand the team of nurses who currently lead the care of patients out of hours, providing a Critical Care Outreach service to all level 1 wards (RBH) and the Respiratory Medicine HDU beds.

This service provides a Critical Care Outreach assessment, is the point of contact for the wards for clinical tasks such as cannulation, phlebotomy, fluid prescriptions, and provides clinical leadership across both the Lung and Heart Division clinical areas out of hours.

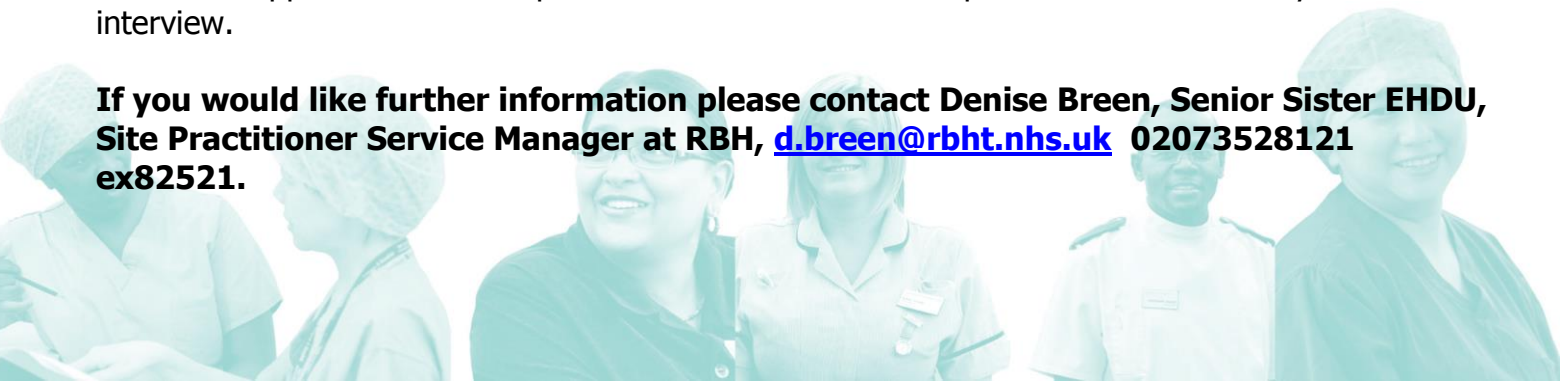

The Site Practitioner will work closely with the SpR's in cardiology and surgery and the Lung Division night shift SHO. The key components of the role include: being a point of contact for all level 1 wards in the assessment and management of patients Out of Hours. The Site practitioner will assess and initiate care of the critically ill patient using critical care expertise and skills to assist in the prevention, identification and management of the deteriorating patient in the ward. When not working out of hours the practitioner is based within a respective clinical area.

This post is an ideal opportunity for experienced cardiology, intensive care, high dependency or respiratory nurse to develop their expertise and skills in critical care outreach and hospital at night patient management. The successful candidate will lead the Hospital at Night team and weekend teams across both the Lung and Heart Divisions, including both the evening and morning medical handover processes.

The successful applicant should possess excellent clinical skills in at least one of the above specialities and have worked in a Senior Staff nurse position demonstrating these skills on a day to day basis. Excellent communication skills are essential in addition to proven teaching and assessing skills.

Successful applicants will be expected to deliver a 10-minute presentation followed by an interview.

If you would like further information please contact Denise Breen, Senior Sister EHDU, Site Practitioner Service Manager at RBH, d.breen@rbht.nhs.uk 02073528121 ex82521.

London - Royal Brompton Hospital
Salary: £27,627 to £35,530 pa Inc HCAS
Hours Per Week: 37.5 Hours/Week
Job Type: Permanent
Reference: 312-RB-CA-5706
Closing Date: 25 Jan 2019

About the role

We are looking for highly motivated, enthusiastic Staff Nurses to join our friendly cardiology team within the cardiothoracic services unit.

York Ward is a 34-bedded ward and has been recently joined with a brand new Cardiology day case unit-the Squire Centre. There will be the opportunity to rotate into this unit. We care for Cardiology patients requiring specialist cardiac investigations such as interventional cardiology, heart failure, rhythm management and cardiac devices and pre-cardiac surgery. You will have the opportunity to work within both areas.

About you

As a band 5 staff nurse within the team you will support the Ward Sister and your colleagues in providing high standards of patient care. You will be required to demonstrate competence in assessing, planning and evaluating the care needs of a group of patients with support from your ward manager, colleagues and Educator team.

This is an exciting opportunity, for nurses new to the cardiology speciality that have a keen interest to learn and expand their knowledge or nurses who wish to expand their existing cardiology experience in a specialist centre.

About us

We're committed to the training and career development of our staff and have a clear cardio-respiratory competency pathway. Once staff, have had the appropriate training and completed competencies, there is the opportunity to rotate to the high dependency unit and the cardiothoracic ward.

So join us in this role, and you will have the chance to broaden your professional horizons and develop your skills in caring for cardiothoracic patients.

Please read the additional documentation and for informal visits and informal conversations are very welcomed; please contact Cardiology Service Improvement Manager Annette Sprules on 0207 351 8592.

Are you looking for a chance to rotate across different specialist clinical areas to develop, or begin, your nursing career?

A unique and exciting opportunity has arisen for newly qualified or existing band 5 nurses to join our Cardiothoracic Rotation Development Programme at Harefield Hospital as part of the CapitalNurse Foundation Programme

You will benefit from three 6 month clinical placement areas, which include:

Cardiology (including Day Case)

Surgery (including private patients)

Transplant

Critical care

The rotation enables you to experience nursing in a variety of settings and develop your clinical knowledge, in preparation for development to a band 6 role within the trust. There is also a tailored education package to support your continuing development. This includes Preceptorship for newly qualified nurses, support from enthusiastic dedicated clinical mentors and educators on every ward, an education supervisor, and a bespoke academic programme. There will be an element of academic assessment at the end of each rotation area.

Following successful completion of the rotation, including the academic elements, there will be the opportunity to gain permanent employment in your area of choice, and continue to develop your knowledge and skills in preparation for progressing to a Band 6.

If you would like to develop your nursing career in a supportive learning environment please contact 01895 823737 and ask for Helen Doyle (Matron) on extension 85450

About Us

Victoria ward is all about Respiratory care. We nurse people who have a variety of respiratory conditions, severe acute asthma, COPD, neuromuscular lung disorders, infection and interstitial lung disease. We are one of the largest centres using non-invasive ventilation, and have designated sleep laboratories for sleep disordered breathing. Patient centred care underpins all we work towards.

We currently have 5 high dependent respiratory beds. These beds are used for those with greater need for respiratory support. High flow CPAP, high flow nasal oxygen, NIV support, CVP and ABG monitoring and Tracheostomy management and cardiac monitoring.

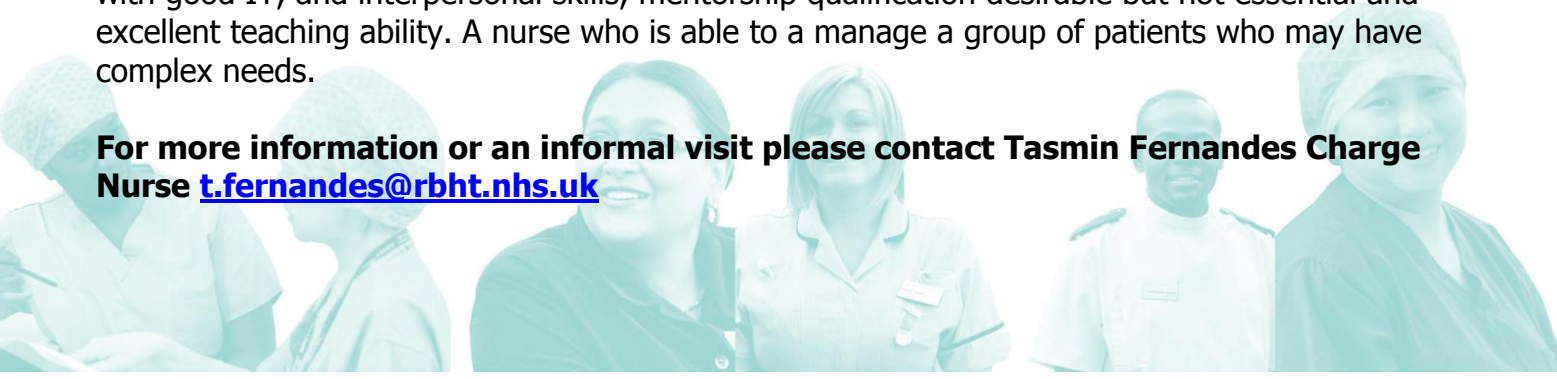

There are plenty of opportunities to develop advanced nursing skills in tracheostomy care, high dependency respiratory nursing care skills and care of patients on non-invasive ventilation. There is a Practice Facilitator and Practice Educator to help with professional clinical skills development. The ward works around effective team work, both locally and together with the wider multidisciplinary team. The nursing teams are well led and supported by the deputy sisters and the charge nurse.

Singing for breathing group, reflexology and relaxation classes are some of the activities that support the nursing care and medical treatment.

About You

We are looking for nurses who have excellent care values, a strong sense of team spirit and are keen to develop their skills in respiratory medicine, delivering high quality patient-centred care. Preferably you will have some respiratory medicine experience, however, if you are keen to work and learn within this supportive environment we welcome new staff and the perspectives they bring. Following orientation and completion of relevant competencies, staff will have the opportunity to access university based post-graduate courses. The post is for a registered nurse with good IT, and interpersonal skills, mentorship qualification desirable but not essential and excellent teaching ability. A nurse who is able to manage a group of patients who may have complex needs.
